Luis Bertrán Rafecas

Secretary General, International Gas Union (IGU)

It was a great pleasure for me to speak at the 14th Russian Petroleum and Gas Congress (RPGC 2017) running in parallel with the MIOGE, the great and successful exhibition.

I brought up the message on how natural gas is providing better air quality in the cities when used and how natural gas is working together with renewables promoting a sustainable energy mix. I came across a very smart industry with a great development on efficient exploration, production and reserves in the northern polar circle and was happy to make a conclusion, that Russia is ready to continue supplying the clean natural gas with high security of supply at the highest international level while the event gathered international experts discussing the top topics of the industry issues.

Alexander Kurdin

Research Director, Office of Energy, Analytical Center under the Government of the Russian Federation

The Russian Petroleum and Gas Congress (RPGC 2017) continues to reinforce its reputation as one of the most important industry events of the year.

The 13th Congress not only gathered key representatives of the oil and gas industry, but was also a platform for productive dialogue and development of new solutions to issues in the sector. Importantly, alongside Russian participants, the Congress also featured the participation of representatives of foreign companies and organisations, including the International Gas Union (IGU), which continued its constructive dialogue with Russian partners, notwithstanding difficult political circumstances. The discussion of gas production issues on the Gas Day of the Congress without doubt greatly contributed to the overall dialogue on key government measures in the gas industry and the domestic market development strategy.

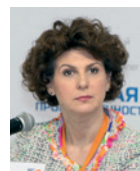

Valery Bessel

Executive Vice President, NewTech Services Group of Companies; Professor, Gubkin Russian State University of Oil and Gas (National Research University)

The recently held 13th Russian Petroleum and Gas Congress (RPGC 2017) and the 14th Moscow International Oil and Gas Exhibition (MIOGE 2017), that took place at Crocus Expo at the end of June, have become a platform for discussion of pressing current and future issues concerning the oil and gas industry in the current climate of low energy prices, where representatives of the International and Russian oil and gas community took part. ITE Group PLC, the organiser of the event, have been able to successfully adapt and change the format of the participants taking into account the limitations imposed by current sanctions. As a result, the number of Russian companies producing a wide spectrum of equipment and services to the industry, has significantly increased as well as the number of companies participating from Iran, China, India and other countries from the Asia-Pacific region.

New equipment, technologies and services that were showcased at the exhibition as well as at the RPGC Congress and technical seminars, gave industry specialists, participating at the event, confidence that the Russian hydrocarbon production industry will continue to thrive as it did before the imposition of sanctions. I am confident that the Exhibition and Congress will continue to contribute to the successful development of the programme of import substitution and localisation of manufacturing across a whole spectrum of equipment and technologies for hydrocarbon production in Russia.

Olga Rummyantseva

Executive Director, Representative Office, Gasunie Russia

The Russian Petroleum and Gas Congress (RPGC 2017) once again gathered leading representatives of the industry and provided an opportunity for personal, face-to-face discussions, which this age of highly developed communication technology often does not allow time for. Real professionals of the industry presented very well-prepared papers, creating the basis for further interesting discussions throughout the Congress.

I sincerely wish the organisers continued success in the future!

Nicola Rossetti

Member of the Board of Directors, Turboden RUS

I would like to express our gratitude to ITE Group for organising RPGC 2017 Congress and MIOGE 2017 Exhibition. RPGC Congress represents an effective and first-class platform which gathers high-level key players and strategic partners. International experts lead delegates to reflect on current and future global oil and gas industry, while moderators direct the Congress sessions to an interesting and fruitful discussion.

It was such a great honor to be a part of this powerful project.

Thanks to this incredible opportunity I had a chance to introduce a viable energy efficiency technology at disposal of the oil & gas Russian market.

Garry Oganov

Deputy Director, Krasnoyarskgazprom neftegazproekt

The 13th Russian Petroleum and Gas Congress (RPGC 2017) is one of the most significant events in the oil and gas industry in Russia.

I would like to express my gratitude to the organisers of the event for the invitation to participate and to make a presentation at the Congress and to have the opportunity to meet and communicate with leading specialists and experts, as well as get acquainted with new developments, equipment and technologies, that were showcased at the 14th Moscow International Oil and Gas Exhibition (MIOGE 2017). All aspects of the event were organised and carried out at a highly professional level.

Julia Krause

Head of Technical Regulation, ALPHA Consulting GmbH

I thank the organisers for their invitation giving me the opportunity to make a presentation at the 13th Russian Petroleum and Gas Congress (RPGC 2017) and thereby continuing the dialogue between Russian oil and gas companies, on one side, and on the other side - manufacturers of equipment and the representatives of a variety of engineering services of Western Europe and the world as a whole.

The Congress is a unique platform allowing participants to get acquainted with current and future projects, international companies and leading players in the industry but also for the discussion of key problems and issues in the following areas: in technology - concepts for production and transportation of hydrocarbons; economic issues – pricing; political – import substitution and legal and regulatory, including the specifics of hierarchical demands for project planning of factories and implementation, and thereafter during production of equipment and installation, all of which assists a multifaceted approach and view on key factors for the successful realisation of large scale investment projects - not only in Russia, but internationally.

During this period of political instability it is of vital importance that opinions and ideas are exchanged and that joint cooperation between representatives of business and scientific community is continued, and this International Congress is a great forum to assist that.

MIOGE and RPGC traditionally stands out due to the combination of an intensive business programme and excellent networking opportunities: coffee-breaks, business lunches, cocktail receptions, Gala dinners
